SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF DAVID J. PARK

David J. Park was born in 1798, at what is now Bloomsburg, N. Y. In early youth, his parents moved to Wyalusing, Pa., and a little later, farther up the Susquehanna to Wysux, in Bradford Co., where he lived till he was 22 years old. He then moved, with his parents, to what is now the town of Erin, in Chemung Co. The county was densely timbered, but they commenced to erect a home. Four years later his father and mother both died within a week of each other, leaving him to support a family of sisters in a howling wilderness, with no neighbors nearer than four miles. Hardships and privations stared him in the face, but he resolved to remain.

In 1824 he married Miss Susan Eliza Park, a cousin, by whom he had eleven children — three sons and eight daughters. He determined to give all his children the advantage of an education. The youngest child died at an early age. Eight of the remaining ten became school teachers.

His youngest son he often carried on his back part of the way to school.

In politics he was a Jacksonian Democrat. His highest ambition was to do his part well in his own sphere, and with few exceptions he declined all public honors.

In religion he was a Presbyterian. He was a man of integrity and generous impulses.

He died on the farm where he had lived for more than half a century, at the age of seventy-three.

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF HIS SON, ALEXANDER H. PARK

A. H. Park, the oldest son of David J. Park, was born in 1825. He was a man of prominence in the town of Erin. He was elected town clerk at the early age of twenty-one. Afterward he held the important positions of town superintendent of public schools and supervisor.

He was also postmaster of State Road Post Office for fifteen years. Park Station was named in his honor.

Besides being a charter member of Southern Light Lodge of F. & A. M., he has filled other honorable positions in both church and county.

He was married to Edna McDoel in 1850, by whom he had two children, a son and a daughter.

He died in Elmira in 1893, at the age of sixty-eight.

SKETCH OF JAMES JACKSON PARK

J. Jackson Park, second son of David J. Park, was born in 1840. He was twice supervisor of the town of Erin, and also held other positions of honor and trust.

He was married in 1861 to Miss Lucy Barnes, by whom he had two sons. He died in 1921, aged eighty-one years.

CHAPTER 1

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

The history of the United States is a complex and multifaceted story. It begins with the first Native Americans who lived on the continent for thousands of years. The arrival of European settlers in the 15th century marked the beginning of a new chapter in the nation's history. The struggle for independence from British rule led to the formation of the United States in 1776. The subsequent years were marked by westward expansion, the Civil War, and the rise of the industrial revolution. The 20th century saw the United States emerge as a global superpower, with significant involvement in World War II and the Cold War. The nation's history is a testament to the resilience and adaptability of its people.

SONG OF THE TREE OF FAME

By Byron T. Park

- 1—The beech tree stands in the hillside lane
Unfelled by axe or bolt of flame,
Erstwhile by storm and tempest flayed;
Oft when its branching limbs are swayed
Far over the lane and thence again,
There comes a deep and low refrain
(And a whispering song forever weaves)
As souging south winds rustle the leaves
Of the old beech tree in the hillside lane
The song of the Tree of Fame.
- 2—As mortals mark the rolling years,
Circling rounds of joy and bitter tears,
Long decades now have whirled away,
(Where a thousand years are as a day)
Since in youth we played in the blessed shade,
And glowing plans for the future laid;
Then carved our names in the smooth, firm bark
Of the old beech tree in the hillside lane,
Calling it our Tree of Fame.
- 3—From youth to age, on destined lines,
We have passed that tree a thousand times.
Oft in a pensive mood, albeit in vain,
Almost aloud have recalled the names
Of those long gone with the absent throng.
But no form comes near, no voice we hear,
While all around seems hallowed ground
Near the old beech tree in the hillside lane
Our wonderous Tree of Fame.
- 4—On that summer night when the lightning's gleam,
From low-lying cloud on the horizon seen,
Through the embowered lane we loved so well
(From the old State Road through the Green Bush way)
Our hearts aglow like the stars overhead,
When, lo, the earth seemed thunder-riven,
And forest oaks to the lightning given.
Soon a masquerading, bright, full moon
Through the rifted clouds in splendor shone.
(Lighting up our way through night and gloom)
And we found unscathed our Tree of Fame,
The old beech tree in the hillside lane
Our wonderous Tree of Fame.

5—How few of all that joyous throng
Remain to sing this saddened song.
In that city so that that lieth four square
'Neath the Tree of Life forever they are,
No spirit seraphic nor angelic one
From words celestial to us may come,
Though they canot come, to them we can go,
When mortality sleeps, immortals may speak
Of this life and the world below.
Softly, O south winds, rustle the leaves,
While the whispering song forever weaves,
'Round the old beech tree in the hillside lane,
The song of the Tree of Fame.

6—As I strolled the lane at twilight again,
A spectral form with a burdened frame
Vanished away in the gathering gloom.
An hourglass flashed its rays full soon,
And a gleaming scythe o'er his shoulder thrown
Told his mission well to mortals known—
Old Father Time is waiting, I know,
And soon shall I be whelmed by the blow,
Then softly, O south winds, rustle the leaves,
'Round the old beech tree in the hillside lane,
The Song of the Tree of Fame.
